

WELCOME

Welcome to 2012 and a whole new year of Kitchens Bedrooms & Bathrooms. Our February issue feature home is a former sorting office that has been transformed into a jaw-dropping architectural abode. Ambitious in scope and scale, the story of how it was reborn as a stunningly minimalist house is an absorbing one.

We also aim to surprise you this month. You might not think that kitchen storage is the most exciting subject, but a system that works perfectly in harmony with the way you like to use your kitchen could save your sanity in the months and years to come. Equally, a good night's sleep can make the difference between vitality and lethargy, so if you're waking up more fatigued than when you turned in, it could be time to invest in a new bed. And if you still think washing up by hand is better than using a dishwasher, prepared to be convinced otherwise.

If that's not enough, there's a host of other ideas to inspire. Mark time with our Shortlist of clocks, ensure your windows are dressed to impress with our round-up of shutters, blinds and curtains, and find out how our designers came up with the ideal bachelor's bathroom.

All this – and much more – in February issue of KBB, out now.

Ruth Bell, Editor

KITCHENS
BEDROOMS
&
BATHROOMS

TO ADVERTISE
IN THIS SPACE

CONTACT

DAVID JONES

(020) 8515 2115

FIND YOUR NEAREST
STOCKIST OF KBB
MAGAZINE CAFÉ

COMAG

IB
Society of British
Interior Design

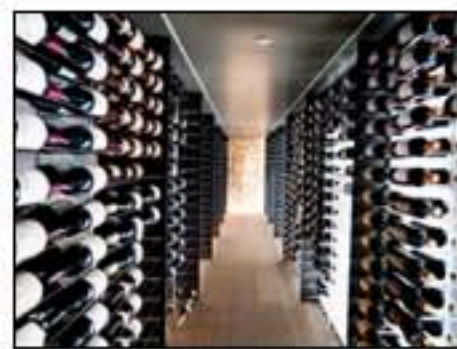

THIS MONTH IN KBB

Beds & Mattresses

Guarantee a great night's sleep

Inside Homes

First Class Stamp

Formerly a Royal Mail sorting office, this Victoria penthouse has been wonderfully transformed

Golden State

A compact flat in Shoreditch has been cleverly reworked to perfectly suit its Californian owner

Know-How

KITCHEN STORAGE: We show you the best way to store your kitchenwares

BASINS & TAPS: You won't find a drip in sight with the current crop

DISHWASHERS: Appliances to make washing up a breeze

WINDOW DRESSINGS: Beautiful ways to fill your frames

The February issue of KBB is on sale now or you can subscribe to the magazine here

KITCHENS
BEDROOMS
&
BATHROOMS

TO ADVERTISE
IN THIS SPACE

CONTACT
DAVID JONES
(020) 8515 2115

FIND YOUR NEAREST
STOCKIST OF KBB
MAGAZINE CAFE

COMAG

Society of British
Interior Design